Sir. In reply to the annexed Senate resolutions, passed December 21, 1865, referred to me by you for report, I have thus made this city prosperous may well be pursued throughout the whole of a territory in which material is so abundant, motive power so cheap, and market for the product so convenient, as in our State. The profit of manufacturing establishments, so strikingly shown in the large dividends of Eastern rained up to the annexed Senate resolutions, passed December 21, 1865, referred to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported to me by you for report, I have reported by United State Pirst, That Jefferson Davis was captured by United States and move the profit of me by you for report, I have reported by United State Pirst, That Jefferson Davis was captured by United States and move is confined in Fortress Monnarket for the product so convenient, as in our State. The profit of manufacturing establishments, so strikingly the profit of me by you for report, I have reported by United States and move and the profit of me by you for report, I have reported by United States and move and the profit of me by you for report, I have reported by United States and profit of me by you for report, I have reported by United States and move and mov shown in the large dividends of Eastern factories, is not to the proprietor or stock-holder alone. The community share it to a great extent though indirectly. In the instance before us, this woolen factory creates a home demand for the large and increasing amount of wool sheared in the neighboring part of the State, and perhaps will, as is done in other places, manufacture it on Third. The President deeming it extends the transparence of the president deeming it extends the property of the said District. He is also charged with the crime of incident the neighboring part of the State, and perhaps will, as is done in other places, manufacture it on Third. The President deeming it explaces, manufacture it on with the producer. The emral products, and is charged nothing for the transportation of the cleth he buys, wealth and intelligence attracted within ents, and the consequent relief in individual taxation, the argument for the If not complete, is unanswerable.

the Special Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Howe asked if when St. Paul stood upon Marsi Hill, and proclaimed that God made of one blood all the nations of the earth, was he playing the demagogue? When the Congress of 1776 assembled in Independence Hall, representing constituencies few in numbers and poor in resources, but strong in their own conviction or right, and announced to the world that all men are created free and equal, and that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and that governments are instituted among men to secure these rights; when the members of that Congress when the war was at its crisis Jefferson lared life, liberty and the pursuite of happiness, and that governments are instituted among men to secure these rights; when the members of that Congress pledged their lives, fortunes and sacred shonors to maintain these assertions against the whole power of the British Empire, do you really suppose they were talking for buncombe? When the American people declare that the Constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof shall be the supreme law of the land, and any State of war. Though active bostilities in the territory in rebellion. Until peace shall ome in fact, and in law, supreme law of the land, and any State of war.

State Governments were things of human origin, and were made and unmade by men. He denied the right of the President to restore the rebel States.—The President's duties were executive, nothing else. The President could not transfer an old musket from one man to another, nor fix the price of an acro of public land. Speaking of the effect of restoring the civil rights of the States lately in rebellion, Mr. Howe said it would add fifty-eight members to the House and twenty-two to the Senate. The right of the President to control this question would give him the power, if disposed to work for his own re-election, to add to the vote of the Electoral College more than one-third of its present number. The responsibility devolves upon Congress to say whether the functions of the Southern States should be restored, and forough, he (Mr. Howe) would say no.—Congress had been asked to restore these functions, The election of men-bers of Congress was taking it for granted that flees functions had never been suspended, and mot asking for their restoration. Mt. Howe stated his reasons for immediate restoration. The people of the South were unwilling to to do justice to the freedmen. They were not loyal and they would not ablied by the result of the war. He would say to the President that he and those with whom he acted would stand by him in he would stand by the United States, also. This was the only feasible plan for the Southern States, giving to Congress any class. He would give them delegates to Congress the only one calculated to oppress any class.

Mr. Howe moved to refer his resolution them. This plan he between the formation that self-end and another of the proper districts to be irried for such judges for the lastly robelloms States, giving to Congress any class.

Mr. Howe moved to refer his resolution than the safety and welfare of the government, and another of the proper districts to be irried for such plants the current of the proper districts to be irried for such plants the current of the proper districts to be counties composing this State into the treasury of the Commonwealth of Virginia, from 1856 to 1861, "was about $800,000 a year." It should have been "8000,000."

Domestic Manufactures.

We notice the establishment of a woolen factory at Clarksburg. The example so worthily set there should be followed throughout West Virginia by shares with the producer. The employees of such establishments offer to the farmer at his gate, good prices for the most profitable articles he produces.

The farmer loses nothing for the transportation of his wool or his agriculture for the farmer that the most profitable articles are properly place for such trail was in the State of Virginia. That State is within the individual to the Chief State of Virginia. That State is within the judicial circuit assigned to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who has held no court there since the apprehension of Davis, and who declines for an indefinite period to hold any court there.

encouragement of domestic manufactures, if not complete, is unanswerable.

Clarksburg is displaying a degree of enterprise for which it has not hitherto received credit, and which, to our mind, is the strongest inducement yet presented for the location of the capital there. If the selection of the seat of government of this State is to be regarded as helping the point selected, the choice should fall on some place which shows a disposition to help itself by the energetic use of every means of genuine prosperity in its power.

The President and Congress—The Policy to be Pursued in Reference to Reconstruction.

Washington, Jan. Il.

In the Senate, Mr. Howe, of Wisconsin, offered a joint resolution declaring that

Whereas, The people of the elevers insurrectionary States have declared their independence of the United States, and what made war against the Government, and abolished the political functions guaranteed to them; and

Whereas, Military tribunals are not suited to the wants of those people; therefore, provisional government should be instituted, suited to their wants and necessities.

Mr. Johnson, of Maryland, suggested the propriety of referring the above to the Special Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Howe asked if when St. Paul stood upon Marsi Hill, and proclaimed that God made of one blood sil the nather of the court of a converted that God made of one blood sil the nather of the court of a converted that God made of one blood sil the nather the court of a converted that God made of one blood sil the nather the court of a converted that God made of one blood sil the nather than the control of the Covernment of the rebellion against the Court of the Covernment, are set in the Special Connected, the control of the capital of the rebellion of plates, robbers and ravage the commerce and coasts of the committee of the clevers of the control of the commerce and marine on the high seas. it is the most interesting and generally a discussed topic in our city. The House to f. Delgates of the Brotherhood, has been in session for a week and more, and, as I prognosticated in a former leiter, has, upon careful enquiry into his administration, sustained O'Mahony. A committee of, one delegate from each State and Territory in the Union was appointed to examine into Mr. Killian's financial management, and, after an investigation which lasted some days, made an entirely satisfactory report. The system of records in Mr. K.'s department is substantially the same as in the Treasury Department at Washington, and under the personal supervision of that gentleman, are not only handsomely but accurately kept. The Gongress is composed of, an intelligent, carnest body of Irishmen, and as its decisions are final it is hoped that blekerings are at an end, and that the organization will, work honestly, unitedly and heartily towards the accomplishment of its great object. A new weekly journal of eight pages is about to be issued. It will be called the Irish People, and will be the mouth piece of Fenianism in America.

The re-entree of Edwin Booth upon the stage has been the theatrical event of the week. This gentleman, while sharing in the common grief into which a terribly tragic occurrence plunged the entire nation, suffered unutterable woe from a private grief, which should call out our warmest sympathies. After nine months' absence from the stage, he commenced, on the 3d inst, an engagement at Winter Garden playing Hamlet. The commoned on the first night of his appearance, and when the brilliant actor was discovered in the second scene, sented in the Bunish Court, the enthusiasm of the haddence was intense. Boquels rained upon him, handkerchiefs waved in every part of the house, and cheer upon cheer told him of the appreciation and sympathy felt for him by the large assemblage. He received the applause meekly. As Hamlet, Mr. Booth has no equal upon the American stage; Perhaps that excellent tragedian and ardent pla inferior to that of his younger competitor. Miss Bateman, the charming and able American tragedienne, has sailed from England, where she has been winning, "golden opinions from all sorts of people," and is announced to appear as Leah, the Forsaken, at Niblo's, on the 16th inst. She will be warmly welcomed on her return.

The "nipping and eager air" which quickened the blood of the "melancholy Dane" as he watched upon the battlements of Elsinor for the "perturbered spirit" of his respected parent, was as the temperature of balmy June when compared with the cutting blasts of air that now are freezing the very marrow in our bones. It is our humble opinion, though we have had as yet (as is perhaps unnecessary to remark), no taste of the sultry place, that any spirit who leaves its comfortable quarters in purgatory for a midnight ramble in our frosty atmosphere never, in life, personated the "oldest resident" of a respectable village, and, in unusual weather, ventured sage opinions based upon his recollections as such; and that any spirit so fool hardy waits not upon his recollections as such; and that any spirit so fool hardy waits not the crowing of the cock, but betakes itself "like a guilty (and a foolish) thing" to its pleasantly, heated apartments below, long before that noisy, though seldom heard herald of the morn, amounces its approach. Quick silver is as far below zero as the precious coin is below par. In the streets, ladies' faces are entirely hidden behind onviable furs and glances are like angels visits. The contents of milk pitchers, wash bowls and ink stands is formed into minature skating ponds.—The cold even pierces to the parlors of the affluent. Oh! misery, misery, what wretchedness does it not carry to the hovels of the poor.

A most excellent and well beloved gentleman, the Rev. Mr. Cummings, of St. Stephens (Catholic) has been taken from his flock and his spirit is gone "where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest." A man of education refinement and piety, respected by all religious denominations, loc can be but illy spared. His obsequies were solomnly grand.

From the Richmond Enquirer. mean it? I put these questions because, however generally we may assent to these propositions in our speeches, there are accuracy with the constitution is the supermel law, because the constitution is supermel law, because the supermel law, because the supermel law, because the constitution is supermel law, because the constitution is supermel law, because the constitution is supermel law, because the of Louisville. In conclusion, we wish them only all the success that they de-serve, which is the best fortune we can wish them.

Among the many amendments to the constitution proposed in Congress, are one prohibiting nullification and secession, another prohibiting the repudia-tion of the national debt and the assumption of the rebel debt, another forever excluding traitors from national offices, another forbidding Congress to pay for the emancipation of slaves.

VIRGINIA BONDS, The bill authorising the conversion of the registered bonds of the commonwealh of Virginia into holders, has been defeated in the House of Delegates of that State, by a very decided majority.
